G.I. Jobs and Military Spouse print and digital magazines

G.I. Jobs and Military Spouse magazines are the long-standing granddaddies of ‘em all; in continuous print and digital publication for 22 years. The military community of veterans, transitioning service members, Guardsmen, Reservists and military spouses have looked to G.I. Jobs and Military Spouse for career and education guidance since 2001. Advertising in these magazines tells this valuable audience that you get them and value them.

G.I. Jobs Magazine

Since 2001, G.I. Jobs has served the professional needs of the nation’s roughly 10 million working age veterans, 250,000 service members who leave the military every year and 2.4 million men and women in uniform. G.I. Jobs is the number one choice of service members for advice on career and education opportunities. This invaluable talent pool looks to us for advice and tools to help them find the right jobs, education and franchise opportunities during and after leaving the military.

Military Spouse Magazine

Military Spouse magazine addresses the unique needs and interests of our nation’s 1 million military spouses and their families. Our content focuses on meeting their employment and educational needs but also contains topics spanning deployment issues, consumer products, moving duty stations, celebrity interviews, relationship building, budgeting and family planning.

Print Magazines

The physicality of our print magazines gives you the ability to build brand in a physical environment that contains much less competition than online where there are an infinite number of messages bombarding us all every day.

Special Features

This year we are doubling down on celebrating the institutional and individual role models within our community with an enhanced Military Friendly® and “of the Year” coverage in print. Lots of follow-on traffic sharing being in “print”.

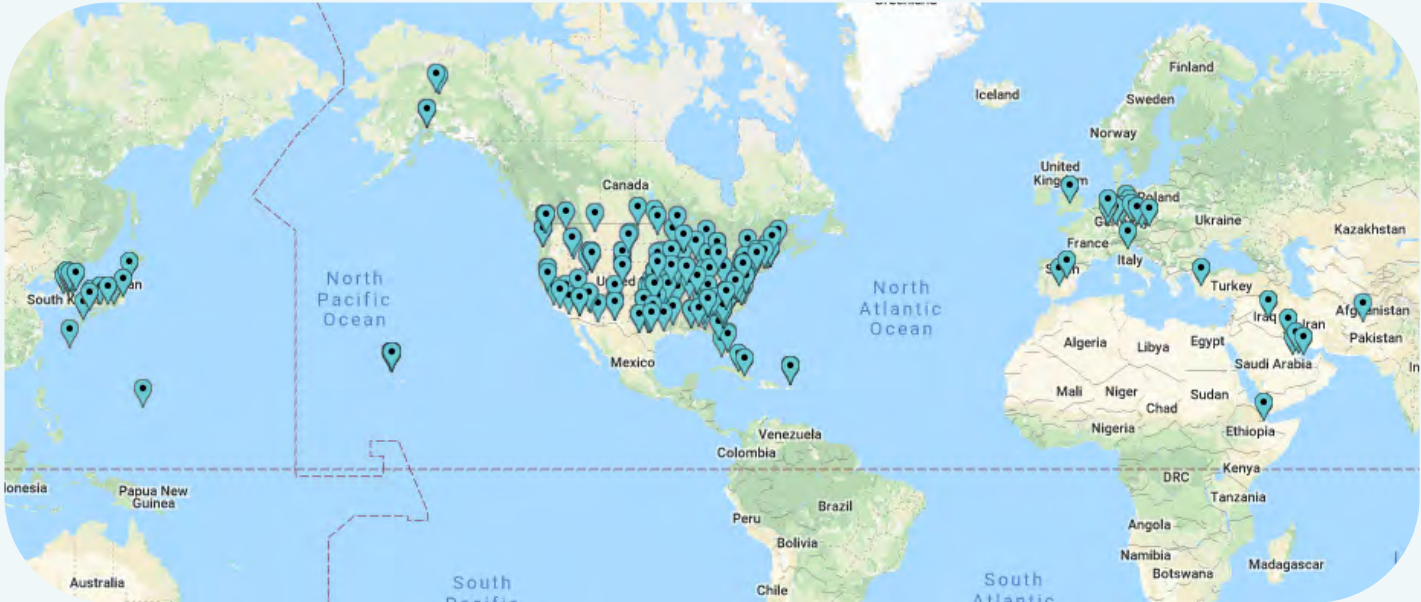

Digital Magazines & Mobile App

Each magazine is converted to a digital version that can be viewed on a desktop, tablet or smartphone as well as in our G.I. Jobs App.
